

INDUSTRY EXPERIENCE

I have been an Officer with the Orange County Sheriff's Department for over 28 years. In all these years, I have seen many law enforcement personnel use shackles and other control harnesses that were too hard to apply on hostile and combative suspects. These items also caused injuries to the suspects and officers. In addition, those harnesses did not work and were not cost effective for police departments.

EZ LEG RESTRAINT

Currently, law enforcement personnel are often called upon to control individuals who display extremely violent or bizarre behavior which is often due to the ingestion of drugs, alcohol, or possible mental illness. However, these individuals must be controlled in a manner that is safe to both themselves and the officers. The EZ Leg Control device is a viable option to deploy in controlling suspects during transporting.

On Tuesday, April 27, 2010, I received a letter from Deputy A. Brady from the OCSD.

Deputy Brady's statement:

"I recently have been fortunate to have the EZ Leg restraint system available to restrain a violent and intoxicated gang member and parolee who was attempting to kick out the window of my patrol car. I found the system was very easy to use and very effective. Use of the restraint helped prevent injury to the suspect, myself, and my partners. The restraint also completely eliminated the suspects ability to kick out the patrol unit's windows or other interior items which could cause costly damage and was applied in seconds. I highly recommend the restraint as a cost effective, humane and safe method of restraining highly combative, dangerous or delirious suspects."
